

Sponsorship Information

The Paddle for Promise is UPW's annual fundraiser that supports the StreetLeader Job Training Program, a leadership development program that is the largest, year round employer of youth in the city of Wilmington. StreetLeaders are teens employed with the UrbanPromise free summer camps and after school programs, serving as role models for children across the city. The program is making a difference in the lives of urban teens by offering job training, leadership development, tutoring, employment, mentoring and college prep. Your sponsorship of the Paddle for Promise raises awareness and support for StreetLeaders in Wilmington.
